

Every year, termites cause more damage to Australian homes than floods, fires and storms combined.

At least one in five homes are affected and the cost of repairs regularly runs into thousands of dollars. Even more disturbing is that the destruction (and expense) termites cause is not covered by normal household insurance.

So whether you're planning to put up a new home or renovate an existing one, it's vital that you comply with compulsory building regulations and invest in protecting your most important asset. Because wherever there is timber there are termites looking for their next meal.

For cost-effective, long-term protection, you can't go past having a Kordon Termite Barrier installed.

MORE THAN BEING TERMITE PROOF KORDON IS TERMITE REPELLENT

Most termite protection products act solely as a physical barrier, allowing the foraging insects to search up and down their length until they find a gap or weakness to enter through.

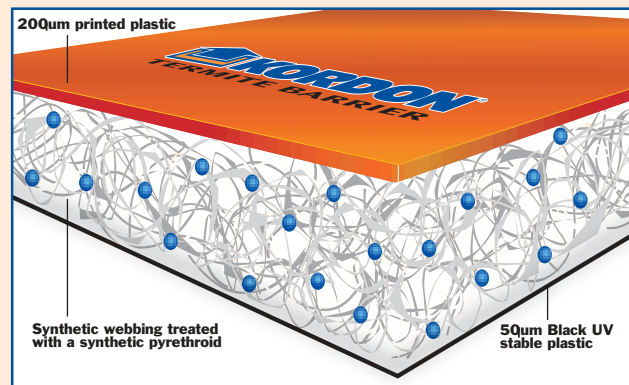

Kordon, however, has the unique added advantage of actually repelling them away from its termite proof surface. Repeated trials have shown that as soon as termites even get near the Kordon barrier they turn and go elsewhere for their food.

ENVIRONMENTALLY SENSITIVE AND ALLERGEN FREE

Backed by the global resources of Bayer, one of the world's most trusted names in health and environmental science, Kordon's innovative plastic-sealed design makes it the ideal choice for allergen free housing and environmentally sensitive sites.

It's the reason why Kordon is so often preferred for use in schools, hospitals public buildings and quality-conscious new residential developments.

Kordon's design is unique. It comprises a special layer of webbing to which a precise treatment of synthetic pyrethroid is applied with 100% consistency. This is then sealed between two robust sheets of quality UV stable plastic to deliver environmentally safe termite protection that is not only guaranteed to last, but fully conform with the Australian Building Code, AS3660 and ABCB certification No. 2003/001

KORDON PROTECTION COMES WITH A 10-YEAR WARRANTY (And life of the building performance)

A unique Australian made and designed product, Kordon has been extensively tested over a 14-year period by Bayer, the CSIRO, State Forestry Departments, State Building Authorities and Building Design academics.

In all evaluation work carried out by Bayer, Kordon has achieved 100% performance as an effective physical barrier to termites.

This is why there is no barrier to Bayer confidently offering you a 10-year Structural Timber Replacement Warranty against termites penetrating the Kordon product, long-term.

You even have the reassurance of knowing that an accredited Kordon installer will be working with your builder to ensure the barrier is put in perfectly – without a single change to your planned method of construction.
